

INTERN & CO-OP PROGRAM

We are thrilled you are considering applying for SNC's Internship Program! At SNC, we foster an environment where learning and innovation thrive. Our program isn't just about gaining experience – it's about getting your hands dirty with real-world projects, being mentored by experienced professionals and leveling up your technical and professional skills through workshops and training sessions. You'll also collaborate with fellow interns and SNC employees through teambuilding activities and social events.

We believe a summer with SNC will be a transformative experience, filled with opportunities to challenge yourself, expand your knowledge and make meaningful contributions. We are excited to see the unique perspectives and ideas you'll bring to our team.

Program Overview

Applications

Applications open in early September for the following summer. Make sure to apply early! We try to fill all roles before the new year!

Program Details

Our program is a full-time, paid internship. You'll be guaranteed 40 hours a week and assigned a mentor to help you learn the role!

Who is Eligible

You are eligible to apply if you have at least six months of school remaining and are pursuing a bachelor's, master's or PhD degree.

What We're Looking For

We're seeking enthusiastic individuals who are eager to learn, thrive in a high-energy environment, have a passion for aerospace and defense and excel as a team player.

Types of Positions

We are hiring for a variety of positions across our IT, business, finance, and engineering groups.

What to Expect

The summer will be filled with real job experience, professional development courses, meet and greet sessions, and fun networking events.

Program Goal

The goal of our internship program is to get you a full time job before you graduate or for you to come back and intern again with us the next summer.
